FIVE FORSYTH FAVORITES SCORE.

Five favorites won at Forsyth yesterday, and the large crowd went home in a pleasant frame of mind. It was not till the fifth race that the books got any relief, when Samson at 15 to 1 won handily, the favorite, Mollie King, finishing absolutely last.

The weather was pleasant and the track exceptionally fast, as the star performance of Elusive in the mile race showed. With 92 pounds up Cliff Porter's filly covered the distance in 1:40 1/2 official time, several watches making it a quarter of a second faster. A rumor was started that the track was short. There is no foundation for the statement, as the owners affirm that it has been perfectly surveyed and is a full three-quarters of a mile.

Ovation, who has improved wonderfully recently, won the opening race handily from the two outsiders—Billy B and Kingsclere. Lepanto Jr., with the best of the start, led into the stretch and then di-d away to nothing, while the idea of running two good races in two days is too much for Fakir.

There were really only three in the 2-year-old race, and they finished as they should have done. Garner drew the finish rather fine with Zamar II, but he probably knew what he was doing. Yours Truly ran a good race.

After the first quarter Elusive and Millie M had the race all to themselves. The last named led till near the stretch, when Elusive went to the front and won handily in the time mentioned previously.

Caesarian and The Kitten were scratched from the six and a half furlongs and Simmons was the choice. He had no difficulty in disposing of the rather moderate lot that remained, Dan Honig's filly Battledore beating Virgie Dixon for the place.

In the fifth race, Mollie King the favorite got off badly, and Samson the outsider who was away third, made all the running and in a good finish, won by half a length from Barguard, with Proverb a poor third.

In the last race Terragnes and Reveille raced together to the stretch, where John Brenock's filly was beaten, B. F. Fly Jr taking her place. He could not quite reach the daughter of Terra Cotta, who had gone quite as far as she wanted to.

Though Magnet has not been sold and is still in Dan Honig's stable. Galen Brown, who is connected with the Burns & Waterhouse stable, is still ready to give $10,000 for him. Mr. Brown received a telegram yesterday, telling him to get the colt if he could for the sum named.

Leon Legg yesterday bought Ferryman II from the Monmouth Stable for $1,500.

Sam Hildreth will be in from California today with his horses. His jockey, H. Shields, is already here.

Our Telegraphic Form Service.

Subscribers to DAILY RACING FORM's telegraphic selection service can be told that the Form printed and wired daily is not snips, inside information, or anything furtive. The horses named are just the result of intelligent estimate and the measure of performance in the past as against that of other horses against which they are to contend. Five winners and one race with the first horse second and second horse first were the results of this system on Oakley yesterday.
